

What is the impact of our process?

- We enable you to set aspirational goals and then to get to whatever place in your professional and personal life to which you aspire.

Manage the politics of organizations

Have difficult conversations and manage challenging people.

Deal with men and women who are not supportive and may be blocking your rise.

Understand that purpose and passion are necessary along with health and leisure for happiness.

Surround you with your personal board of advisors for the rest of your life.

- We help you understand there are MANY WAYS to get to your goal.

Looking for the next challenge

Focus on pursuing a path and avoiding self-imposed or external distractions.

- We help you learn how to interact on and manage a Board and external stakeholders (Wall Street Analysts, Activists and more)
- We help you understand that you may have to make changes and we support you with tough love and truth to face them with our support and advice.
- Results do not always mean promotion – it is who you know and who knows you and what you know and who knows what you know – we help you MAP your stakeholders.
